About your story:

What is your book about in 250 words or less? What happens in it from start to finish?

What is the point of your book? What are you trying to say about human nature and the world?

Who is your target audience, based on your genre and topic?

Your goal for this book:

What are your goals for your book? Why are you writing it?

What are your publishing goals?

        Traditional publishing?

        Self-publishing?

        An independent or hybrid model?

Your writing experience and goals:

Where are you in the book-writing process?

What gives you the most satisfaction in your book-writing process and your writing life?

What gives you the most frustration in your book-writing process and your writing life?

Do you belong to a writer's group? What feedback have you gotten from them?

Have you worked with an editor on this project in particular? What was the feedback you received from them? What was your experience working with them?

How often do you read books in the genre you're writing in? What are the three most recent stories/novels you've read?

Other important questions:
What are you looking for in a book coach?

If you were advised that your story requires restructuring and further development, how open are you to this course of action?

Are you familiar with using Microsoft Word's Track Changes tool?

Is there anything else you'd like to share with me about your project or writing journey?
